PEACE OFFERS.
The trouble with discussing the Austrian peace offer, or any other such thing, is that any words, promises and treaties that Germany and Austria may make are not worth as much as a counterfeit cent piece. Anyone who attaches the slightest value to any agreement they make, is too innocent a lamb to live in this wicked world.

When our troops have occupied a good slice of German territory, then will be time to discuss peace terms. Then we can sit down for a brief season and say: Mr. Kaiser, we don't place the slightest reliance in your word, and don't consider that any agreement you may make with us is worth two cents. We hold this territory of yours, and propose to hold it until such time as you make due reparation for your infamous deeds. When you get ready to come across and give some positive evidence you won't do it again, you can have back your territory, but not until then.

Then the Kaiser might make a real peace offer. Any talk of peace prior to that time is nothing more than a little on those continuous sacrifices that are necessary to maintain a high scale of military and mechanical effort.

No doubt the war lords have put out this peace offer at a time when they think it will hurt the sale of Liberty bonds. There is no excuse for not buying bonds, that peace will soon be under discussion, and they will not need to come across so heavily as before.

This is not the case. There will be no peace until the German people are thoroughly licked and have finally got it into their heads that the Kaiser is not a business proposition. Otherwise we shall have another war to pay for within a few years. It is cheaper to pay the bill all at once.

IN THE EAST.
News from the eastern front indicates that the French, Serbians, English and Greek armies are playing all high with the Bulgarians, and down in the Holy Land, the English have actually driven the Moslems into a pocket from which they can only emerge as prisoners. Even Rumania is perking up a bit and the Queen Mother of the Crown Prince, who fled the country to escape the wrath of the Huns, promises to raise her standard of revolt when the proper time comes. This is all good news for the allies who are doing their share of work on the western front. If by hammering at the back door of the Central Powers attention can be diverted from the front entrance perhaps something definite can be accomplished soon that will hasten the end of the struggle. Meanwhile, let us do our share here at home and give freely and willingly to the coming Liberty Loan drive soon to start.

THE GARBAGE.
One of the newest essential questions that are to be solved by the city council and citizens in general is the question of garbage collection throughout the city. The Chamber of Commerce and the city council have taken the matter up for adjustment and they ask every citizen to express their individual opinion on the problem. In another column of this evening's issue will be found a special ballot for voting on the question, and it is of such vital importance that it is hoped many will avail themselves of the opportunity to express their views. It is important that this be done and the more who vote the better able will the council be guided in their actions when the matter comes up for adjustment in the sessions of the council itself.

A SUGGESTION.
While congress is hunting around for new ways to raise revenue, it should not overlook the possibilities of a tax on bill boards. This would be pleasing to the great majority of people who hate to see country scenes and streets marred by inappropriate signs. The billboard people of course will claim that if their business is taxed, all other forms of advertising should be taxed, too. But other forms of advertising do not insist upon defacing scenery, nor in making many sections look less desirable.

Public sentiment against advertising signs along country highways is already growing. In some states there are organized efforts to tear them down in highway limits. Land owners still let them the right to stand on private ground. But that is equally objectionable, and in time is likely to be prohibited. While waiting for desirable legislation there is a good bit of revenue there.

THE COLLEGES OPENING.
The colleges are to be turned upside down this fall. The march of the khaki clad war students will take the place of classical learning. The boys will study the arts of war in 1918. Instead of the way the Greeks and Romans fought.

After a year of it, if the war continues, there will be no one left at the campus fresher. The boys are physically disfigured for the service. These last will be a very unhappy bunch of men, although perfectly safe from the hazards of warfare.

The colleges will shortly be reduced in numbers, as the boys are taken away to the various branches of the service. It will be a problem to finance them with so much of their tuition money cut off. The government will have to be liberal to them, difficult as the problem is for the colleges.

lego managements, they cheerfully adapt themselves to it, recognizing that they exist to serve the needs of the community.

The congressmen will soon be at home trying to explain to their wrathful constituents why every crossroads did not get a marble postoffice, and why every creek has not been deepened.

But a congressman who has shaken hands with all the visitors to Washington and has written very polite letters to all correspondents, may get along without being able to explain why he was absent on roll calls.

It is a rather rare occurrence when the merchants who don't advertise are seen spending money for the enlargement of their stores.

The people who adulterate supplies furnished the soldiers should not be put in jail. It would be unfair to make them associate with such scum of the earth.

It is claimed the women vote for the handsome candidate, but the politicians begin putting their pictures in the paper long before woman suffrage days.

Those who are opposed to this war for justice are much out of sympathy with the American people, but they need not feel themselves under any obligation to remain in this country.

When meat stocks decrease, prices go up because of the shortage, and when meat stocks increase, then prices go up because it costs more to handle the bigger supply.

The people who can't go to church when it rains, are the same ones who think the boys should go ahead in France even if the mud is two feet deep.

The way many people serve sweet desserts and makes at dinner, suggests that they secured a very large amount for canning.

THE TWO FATES
Along life's highways walked a manly youth Seeking, as young men do, the flower of truth. Straight ran the path for many a sunny mile. Each day began and ended with a smile. Then suddenly gray clouds lowered overhead. The laughter stopped, the fields seemed brown and dead. The air grew chill, the passersby looked strange. As though some grief had worked a sudden change. And then the roadway forked; no longer straight. Life's path had led him to the realms of fate.

Then something whispered: "Come this way to life! I shall not lead you to the fields of strife. I shall not test your honor nor demand Hard, cruel service for your native land. I shall not bid you toil when you would play. Rack you with pain nor starve you through the day And send you out to die while others live. Long years of life I guarantee to give. But know this, also: If my gift you claim, You shall be friendless and the prey of shame." "What, if I follow you, shall be my fate?" He asked the sentry at the outer gate. "This way lies death—too oft by many feared. This way trod those whom mortals loudly cheered. I cannot offer life by months and days; Some quickly fall who choose to tread my ways. I shall demand stern service, long and hard. Eyes that are blinded and a body scarred. And even life itself, but return I give—what only men of courage earn."

"Who walks my way, shall keep his head erect— Shall meet with men and own his self-respect. And if he die, his friends shall speak his name With honest love and pride; eternal fame Shall keep his memory green, and it shall stand For one who answered duty's grim command. Choose now, young man, with whom you wish to live— The shameful living, or the honored dead." The young man answered with unfaltering breath: "I choose to serve! There are worse fates than death."

FORBIDS USE OF KIMONO ON STREET

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Honolulu, T. H., Sept. 24.—R. Moroi, consul-general of Japan, has forbidden his countrymen in Honolulu to wear kimonos on the streets. To enforce his order he has had the sheriff swear in Mr. Nishigaya, an attaché of the consulate, as a deputy, and it will be the latter's duty to arrest Japanese men who appear on the streets in kimonos, on charge of wearing improper clothing. Those who still cling to the kimono after the first warning will be denied all consular privileges, such as permission to bring relatives or "picture brides" here from Japan, according to Mr. Moroi. Japanese women will be allowed to continue wearing kimonos in public, as their mode of dress is not held to be offensive. Mr. Moroi explained his order as being part of a campaign he is waging to induce the people in Honolulu to adopt American styles. "I believe that when one is in Rome one should do as the Romans do," said Mr. Moroi. "Men who have been apt to be careless in their manner of wearing it. The kimono as worn by Japanese men reminds Europeans and Americans of a nightgown."

The value of Western Farm Lands is increasing. Only the other day I read of a large farm in the Red River Valley of North Dakota, selling at $110 per acre cash.

It is the capacity of the soil to produce crops which governs the price. No matter what the locality, land which has a capacity to produce good crops is bound to increase in value similar to values of farm lands of Illinois or Iowa.

Our mortgages have back of them the fertile Farm Lands of the middle west, where values are constantly increasing, thereby making the security greater from year to year.

We loan our own money on these farms after a careful examination and appraisal by a competent examiner. Twenty-five years' experience has proved these mortgages to be fine investments. We keep a supply of them on hand for sale at our Janesville office and extend to you an invitation to come in and look them over and get our explanation of the securities and the service we render free to investors.

CAPTAIN FRED RAU SEVERELY WOUNDED WHILE FIGHTING HUNS

JANESVILLE BOY FORMERLY WITH COMPANY M WOUNDED FOR SECOND TIME WHILE IN BATTLE OF JUVIGNY.

ONE LEG SHATTERED

Letter to Mother States That Amputation of Leg May Be Necessary. Was Wounded Before.

Captain Fred Rau, formerly of Co. M, of the Wisconsin National Guards has been severely wounded in action according to a letter received by his mother yesterday. Captain Rau was shot twice about two months ago and shortly after returning to his company received a machine gun bullet through his leg.

CAPTAIN FRED RAU.

let through his leg which may mean the amputation of that member. In his letter Captain Rau states that he returned to his company after recovering from his first wounds and that a few days after returning the company was ordered into action. Although only out of the hospital a short time he refused to stay behind and bravely led his men in the battle in which he was wounded and which may mean his ultimate return to the United States.

Captain Rau was wounded while leading his men in the attack on the village of Juvigny, which was captured by the Americans after a bitter fight. Juvigny is a small town just north of Soissons and considered a very valuable place.

Captain Rau, a graduate of St. John's Military School, enlisted in Co. M when first organized, and by his hard work and careful study continued to go ahead. Promoted first to a first lieutenant, he displayed the result of his hard work and study by being termed the best drill master at Camp Douglas when this unit of the National Guards was ordered into federal service.

Upon arrival at Camp McArthur Lieutenant Rau continued his good work, and he was with great sorrow severely wounded the first time he was promoted to a captain.

Never flinching in his duties, Captain Rau won the respect and admiration of his men and he often stated while in the city on a furlough, he was sailing for France that it was his foreboding to lead his men over the top to get the Germans.

Captain Rau has realized his ambition and in so doing has displayed remarkable bravery.

DETECTIVE GIVEN UNTIL TOMORROW TO LEAVE CITY

William Schoel, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad Detective Receives Threatening Letter From Zeb O. Bowen.

William Schoel, employed as a detective on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, was the recipient yesterday of a letter from Zeb O. Bowen, manager of Eureka Heights, telling him that he had until 2:01 p. m. tomorrow to get out of the city limits.

Schoel arrested Bowen about two weeks ago for stealing merchandise from a railroad car. Bowen was taken from court and pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny. He was released pending sentence which will be imposed by Judge Maxfield on Friday morning.

Bowen in his letter to Schoel tells the detective that he has until tomorrow to get out of the city limits and also states the bold type that "Every Dog Has Its Day."

The letter was sent to the detective at Madison and was registered. Further on in the letter Bowen asks that Schoel pay for the merchandise taken from his home while it was being searched and also upbraid the detective for mistaking a large bag of starchy rice. He also mentions another man from Milton who was arrested by the detective several months ago and tells of a social visit with several prominent Janesville professional men.

When questioned as to the letter Detective Schoel stated that it was his belief that it was from a man who was insane and that he had no intention of leaving the city limits to give the convenience of Bowen.

Zeb O. Bowen has been in the limelight in this city several times. He lays claim to being able to foretell events by studying and reading the stars. His home at 1733 Galeus street has been named by him Eureka Heights, Janesville's New Paradise.

All sorts of contraptions can be found at his home. In the line of charts, tables and statistics. A large lower dominates a portion of the yard from which he can command a good view of anyone approaching his premises.

An old stove which Detective Schoel alleges was stolen from the railroad is the main theme of an inquest. He tells and asserts that it was over the stove that he got eight dollars and worth from six to eight dollars and that after getting the stove in the twenty pairs where he gave it to Mr. freight Zimmerman, agent for the St. Paul road in Janesville.

Bowen will be brought into court Friday morning at ten o'clock to be sentenced.

PLAN TO PUT CITY "OVER THE TOP" IN FOUR-DAY CAMPAIGN

FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE WILL OPEN HERE OCTOBER 8TH—COUNTY'S QUOTA $3,000,000, CITY'S QUOTA $1,100,000.

POSTERS RECEIVED

Distribution All Over The County Begun Yesterday—B. F. Cary Has Charge of Work in City—To Advertise In Schools.

Several thousand posters bearing descriptive appeals for subscriptions to the Fourth Liberty Loan were received yesterday by Publicity Chairman A. E. Matheson and the task of distributing them all over the county was begun immediately upon their receipt. Beloit sent a special car to the city yesterday to take a lot of posters while several other places were sent out to the various townships and villages in the county.

The distribution in this city is in charge of Benjamin F. Cary and he has already begun his work. Mrs. H. A. Ford has charge of the advertising campaign in the city schools and all the teachers are working for her part of the work. Fred Blakely has agreed to post a large number of the posters on bill boards throughout the county so that the necessity of advertising to the farmers.

This morning at headquarters a suggestion was received from the state director of sales J. E. Kearney, it was with respect to the use of machines on Sundays in the furtherance of the loan. Mr. Kearney suggests that cards be printed bearing general information on the loan and that these be used for the patriotic purpose of furthering the Fourth Liberty Loan.

The idea is to relieve the drivers of such cars of the suspicion of "loafing" in using their cars on Sundays. The use of cars for Liberty Loan work is permitted under the special direction of the United States fuel administration.

Bonds of the Fourth Liberty Loan will bear the same rate of interest as the third loan. The campaign to raise the quota for Rock county will be conducted in practically the same way as the last drive. Rock county's quota has been fixed at $3,000,000 and of this sum the city of Janesville must subscribe $1,100,000. If we do as suggested it will be the last campaign our quota will be raised," said A. E. Matheson this morning.

The campaign to raise the city's quota will begin October 8th and continue for four days, in which time it is planned to comb the city for subscriptions in a mighty effort. Although the Janesville over the top campaign is scheduled to begin next Saturday the actual drive will not begin until the eighth of the coming month.

WAR EXHIBIT TRAIN TO BE HERE AGAIN THURSDAY EVENING

Many of the bombs with which Austrian aviators attacked the city of London are also shown.

The train is just completing a tour of the state in the interests of the fourth liberty loan and has been seen by thousands of Wisconsin people. It is an exhibit which people are fortunate in being able to see and may be hoped that the opportunity Thursday evening.

Leaving Watertown Thursday noon the train will reach Whitefish Falls at 1:30, arriving at 2:30, leaving at 3:50, and arriving at 5:50. It will arrive here over the St. Paul road and will be placed on a sidetrack near the city Friday morning.

TRUTH PLAYS A BIG PART IN MUNICIPAL COURT THIS MORNING

Good Fellowship Also Displayed in Judge Maxfield's Court During Morning Session.

Good fellowship and truth reigned supreme in the municipal court this morning and while most mornings find the same class of prisoners to be taken before the judge this morning, an entirely different class appeared.

Thomas Price, a wealthy stockman, was the first to appear before the judge and although Edward may be innocent he could not convince the judge that he was not arrested before. He was fined twenty-five dollars and costs or thirty days.

Then came John Ware, his nephew, also of Freeport. Ware started the story of his straightforward story of how he got drunk and his general apathy, and immediately won for him a reduction in his fine. He was fined ten dollars and costs or fifteen days.

Around the State

Another War Chest.
Milwaukee.—Plans for the Milwaukee county's war chest to which all contributions to various institutions for war relief will be made, have been completed.

Provision for the centralization of all war bodies was made at a meeting following weeks of investigation of the plans in other cities. Permanent organization was effected under the name of Milwaukee County War Fund committee.

Under the new plan there will be but five campaigns a year in Milwaukee county, as follows: Two liberty loan campaigns, the Red Cross Christmas campaign, and the annual war work campaign. The Red Cross war fund is included in the list of war relief enterprises to be handled through the war fund committee.

Through the war fund campaign every man, woman and child will be enabled to make at one time a subscription covering his or her fair share of support for all war relief.

Pledges will be taken which may be paid off in not more than ten monthly payments. Subscribers will be permitted to designate any particular fund for which they wish their money to be used.

Doing Good Work.
Madison.—One automobile inspector at the expense of $600 has been able to turn in $12,719 in license money to the office of the secretary of state.

The last legislature provided for the appointment of inspectors who would advise the state with the view of finding persons who had not taken out licenses as required by law. Three inspectors have been sent for three months. The reports of the other two indicated similar amounts. Most of the persons detected were attempting to run on old license numbers.

WILL ORGANIZE HOUSING BUREAU IN JANESVILLE

LOCAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL ORGANIZE HOUSING CORPORATION FOR BENEFIT OF JANESVILLE RESIDENTS

KENYON GIVES TALK

Head of Farm Tractor Department of General Motors Company Addressed Meeting Held Last Evening

Members of the Housing Committee and Homes Registration Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce met last night at the office of the Chamber of Commerce with Mr. J. A. Craig and J. L. Kenyon of the General Motors Corporation, concerning housing. The Chamber of Commerce it was shown has been making a very exhaustive study of the housing problem both temporary and permanent. The result of this study was told to those attending the meeting, and it was proved that the matter is well in hand.

It is the purpose of the Chamber to organize a connection with its direct-orate, Housing Committee, Homes Registration Bureau which is under Government jurisdiction a Building and Loan Association and a housing corporation which will embody all of those forces to carry on the constructive policy for home building and development of the city.

It was shown that the personnel of this organization will include city officials as well as executives in other lines so that a strong organization will result. It was stated that the Chamber of Commerce Housing Corporation would be organized solely for the benefit of Janesville's citizens and not to make a profit.

Mr. Craig and Mr. Kenyon said that the homes to be constructed were to be sold to working men on an easy payment plan with the thought to make Janesville a home city. It was pointed out at the meeting that the undertaking was a big one, but that it was a task worthy of the city and would be carried out with the plans of the Company here in Janesville and expressed the hope that people of the city would aid in the development of the task ahead inasmuch as it means the development of a community twice as large as the present Janesville, and that this, in force, must mean a truly a home city.

It was pointed out at the meeting that the undertaking was a big one, but that it was a task worthy of the city and would be carried out with the plans of the Company here in Janesville and expressed the hope that people of the city would aid in the development of the task ahead inasmuch as it means the development of a community twice as large as the present Janesville, and that this, in force, must mean a truly a home city.

The Committee adopted the policy of taking into its confidence the city and full information will be given of the work of the committee from time to time. For general information it may be said that in one city where the Government itself is erecting homes to house munition workers, three million dollars has been appropriated to purchase land, develop and build 35,000 homes. Janesville's population will be considerably more than this number and, therefore, an understanding may be had of the size of the task.

A communication from the Department of Labor, read at the meeting, concerning profiteering in rentals stated that "Landlords who hoard their rental are considered profiteers by the Bureau of Industrial Housing. Those, however, who have raised their rents will be called upon to show expenses and improvements which justify the increase." The communication goes on to say that rent profiteering means aiding the enemy and postponing the victory. If persons guilty of profiteering do not agree to the de-velopment of the committee, the facts are to be published in full. It is hoped that in Janesville this measure will not be found necessary, but it is certain it is time for the fullest cooperation. It was pointed out at the meeting that steps would be taken to eliminate any profiteering methods in this city.
